Note Taking

Notion and Obsidian or any note taking program.

Notion – easy to use and have online features.

Obsidian – a bit harder and have a paid version for online.

You can use any tool you like, because you will use it most of the times.

The top screenshot shows the Notion interface. On the left is a sidebar with a home icon, a search bar, and a list of teamspaces: General, Engineering, Engineering wiki, Meeting notes, and Projects (selected). Below this is a list of projects: Design, Product, Marketing, Sales, and HR & Legal. The main area is titled 'Projects' with a subtitle 'A bird's-eye view of the team's ongoing and future projects.' It features a 'Timeline' view for February 2023, showing tasks like 'Bulk CSV import' (Complete), 'Unique project keys' (In flight), 'PCI Compliance' (Complete), 'Rate app prompt modal' (Complete), and 'Anonymous users no login' (Complete).

The bottom screenshot shows the Obsidian interface. The left sidebar contains a 'LYT KIT' with various templates like '010 Mindsets MOC', '020 Concepts MOC', etc. The main area displays a 'Habits MOC - Unifying Phase' note. The note includes sections for 'Understanding Habits', 'Designing Habits', and 'Example of Habit Design'. The right sidebar shows a 'Graph view' of the 'Habits MOC' note, displaying a complex network of interconnected concepts and notes, with a central node labeled 'Habits MOC'.
